WISTAR'S BALM OF Wild Cherry.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

AMONG all the famous medicine for Consumption, none seems to be meeting with greater success, or gaining a higher reputation than that most wonderful article, WISTAR'S BALM OF WILD CHERRY.

That it stands at the head of all other remedies, is now universally conceded. It has cured thousands upon thousands, of all classes, in cases of the most dangerously consumptive character. And physicians of the greatest eminence, throughout our whole country, unhesitatingly pronounce it the MOST POWERFUL CURATIVE

of Pulmonary diseases in the whole range of Pharmacy. The sales in the Western States have thus far been unparalleled; and the most gratifying proofs of its efficacy have been received from every place where it has been used. Thousands of CONSUMPTIVE PATIENTS

have already tested its exalted virtues, and confessed its surpassing excellence and amazing power. The remarkable success of this Balm is no doubt owing, in a great measure, to the peculiarly agreeable and powerful nature of its ingredients. It is a FINE HERBAL MEDICINE!

Composed chiefly of Wild Cherry Bark and the genuine Iceland Moss—the latter imported expressly for this purpose—the rare medical virtues of which are also combined, by a new chemical process, with the Extract of Tar, thus rendering the whole compound the most certain and efficacious ever discovered for Consumption of the Lungs, Liver Affections, Asthma, Bronchitis,
And all diseases of the Respiratory Organs.

Reader! Be not startled to see this Great American Remedy supplanting every other Balm before the public.

And why should it not, when by it hundreds and thousands of cures, in cases heretofore considered hopeless, are being performed in all parts of the United States.

Certificates of which record volumes in favor of this justly celebrated remedy.

The genuine Wistar's Balm is sold in BOON'S LICK TIMES.

"ERROR CEASES TO BE DANGEROUS, WHEN REASON IS LEFT FREE TO COMBAT IT."—JEFFERSON.

Vol. 8.

FAYETTE, MISSOURI, SATURDAY, APRIL 17, 1847.

No. 6.

Dull times in Glasgow.

From Hanenkamp's corner to Washington Hall,
The Merchants are quarrelling about nothing at all,
Some have got hot at the "Revelation" of Jews,
And withdrawn their patronage from the "News."

Others, curse Claib Jackson and on him do vent Their vengeance, for putting interest at six per cent; While some are quarrelling for quarrelling's sake,
And others about whole sections of ginger cake.

The Farmers and Planters are very much pleased, As they say, by the Shylocks, they have been hard squeezed,
But a certain Bolus and Daniel, not of the den, Swear by their old hats it was too low at ten.

Some Merchants in town catch customers by the throats,
Saying pay us the cash or give us your notes, For soon rates of Interest will drop down to six.
And according to that, we our profits must fix.

The Planters they say ten per cent is too high,
And they'll not give their notes till after July.
But they'll sell their Tobacco, tho' its too low, upon honor,

And buy goods hereafter at Carroll's cheap corner.
Glasgow, February 6th, 1847.

A Rescue to the Afflicted!

THE CELEBRATED

JEW DAVID'S

OR

HEBREW PLASTER.

A Certain Remedy for all fixed Pains in the SIDE, BACK,
CHEST, BOWELS,
LOINS, MUSCLES.

RHEUMATISM in all its varied forms, Nervous Affections, Lung and Liver complaints, Spinal Affections, Female weaknesses, &c., &c. For the above complaints this plaster has no equal.

The great celebrity which it has already acquired not only in the old but in the new world, the extraordinary cures it has performed in the most extreme cases of suffering, have acquired for it such a reputation, that the proprietor has not (until recently) been able to supply half the demand.

The sales throughout every city, town, and village in the United States are without a parallel!!
A circumstance not surprising, when the vast amount of human suffering relieved by its use is considered. In spinal defects the benefit usually is of the most decided character. In Nervous complaints, nineteen cases out of twenty readily yield to the penetrating stimulus combined in this valuable preparation.

In Rheumatism either acute or chronic the claims of the Hebrew Plaster have long since been universally acknowledged. Those who are laboring under weak backs, no matter from what cause the weakness may have originated, (even if such person have been misguided in previous applications) in the use of the Hebrew Plaster they will find the affected part suddenly restored to its original soundness.

As a supporter in cases of constitutional weakness it will be found of great advantage. It is particularly recommended to Females who are suffering from sudden weakness, or general debility.
In short, it embraces all the virtues which the most scientific mind was capable of compounding from valuable substances found in the old world, and will be found entirely free from those objections which are a source of complaint with the numerous spread-plasters now before the public.

These plasters possess the advantage of being put in tight Boxes, hence, they retain their full-virtues in all climates.

I WANT A BEAU—I'VE GOT A BEAU.

I want a beau! I want a beau!
'Tis sweet—at least they tell me so—To waltz, or walk, or sail, or row, With him you mean to marry;
And then—but oh! it must be sweet!
To have one kneeling at one's feet,
And hear him there his vow repeat!
By Jove, but I will marry!

I'm old enough to have a beau!
And oft I tell my mamma so!
And often she replies "Oh no!
You are too young to marry!" Odd Zooks! 'tis always thus with those Within whose bosom coldly flows, The streams of love, to belles and beaux, Who have a mind to marry.

Maidens who have their hearts for sale Some forty years—whose charms are stale, May—and they have a cause to rail—At those who wish to marry;
But ma's who by experience taught, Know all the bliss with which is fraught The wedded life—I think should nought Object when girls would marry.

I've got a beau! I've got a beau; I know he loves me—and he came This very night to tell his flame; He called me every pretty name;
And asked me if I'd marry.

I blush'd—as every modest maid On such occasions will—and said,
"Dear, I feel somewhat afraid, I am too young to marry."

He pressed his suit—what could I do?
I answered "take me," (so would you.)
And, truth to say, I think there's few Who can, but that will marry.

The Rubicon is passed—what then?
Why I must wed the best of men, I trust I shan't regret the when I first resolv'd to marry.

THE WAR—Treason.
In his speech in reply to Mr. Benton, who charged him with being the author of the war, Mr. Calhoun made the following treasonable remarks—

Every measure towards the accomplishment of annexation had been consummated before the present administration came into power. No war followed, although the act of annexation had been completed more than a year before the rupture between us and Mexico took place, nor would war have followed at all had we acted with ordinary prudence. That Mexico was chafed, chagrined, that she threatened much and blustered much; talked about war and even the existence of hostilities—all true. It was, however, but talk. The strong should always permit the weak and aggrieved to talk, to bluster and scold, without taking offence; and, if we had so acted, and exercised proper skill in the management of our affairs, Mexico and ourselves would, by this time, have quietly and peaceably settled all difficulties, and been good friends.

We have chosen to pursue the opposite course, and are in war.

Every senator knows that I am opposed to the war, but none knows but myself the depth of that opposition. With my conceptions of its character and consequences, it was impossible for me to vote for it. When accordingly, I was deserted by every friend on this side of the house, including then honorable colleague, among the rest, [Mr. McDuffie.] I was not shaken in the least degree in reference to my course. On the passage of the act recognizing the war, I said to many of my friends that a deed had been done from which the country would not be able to recover for a long time, if ever; and added, it has dropped a curtain between the present and the future, which to me is impenetrable; and for the first time since I have been in public life, I am unable to see the future. I also added that it has closed the first volume of our political history under the constitution, and opened the second, and that no mortal could tell what would be written in it. These deep impressions were made upon my mind, because I saw, from the circumstances under which the war was made, a total departure from the course of policy which had governed the country from the commencement of our government until that time; and that, too, under circumstances calculated to lead to most disastrous consequences. Since then, less than a year has elapsed, but in that short period enough has already been developed to make what was then said look like prophecy.

But the senator charges, entertaining as I did these impressions, that I did not take a stand, and arrest the march of Gen. Taylor to the Rio del Norte, I have already stated the reasons on another occasion why I did not, and however unsatisfactory they may be to the senator, they are satisfactory to myself, and I doubt not they will be to the community at large. He also intimated that I ought to have communicated my views to the President. I was guilty of no neglect in that respect; I did not fail to state in the proper quarter explicitly what I thought would result from the order given to Gen. Taylor, but I found very different views from mine entertained there.

IMPORTANT TO PUBLISHERS AND OTHERS—A letter from the Post Office Department.
POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, Washington, Feb. 17, 1847.

SIR:—In reply to your enquiry "whether the law authorizes publishers to forward in a newspaper or pamphlet, a written receipt for the subscription," you are informed that it does not. By the act of 1825, publishers may attach to the margins of their newspapers—not pamphlets—printed or written notices of the amount due for subscription; but there is no provision of law which authorizes them to send a written or printed receipt for subscription.

Very respectfully, your ob't serv't,

SPRING.

The advent of the spring month seems not to be tardy, although it comes to us over fields of untrodden snow, and is ushered in by the merry peals of sleigh-bells.

We perceived that a change had come over the spirit of old winter, on taking a pleasant drive a day or two since. The sound of the bells, mingled in a thousand harmonious cadences, went up on the rarified atmosphere with a mellow and more musical sound than when John tried to keep pace with, or get start of Jack Frost as he travelled on the winds over the creaking snow-track. The breath of the Frost King is growing mild, like a last sigh. All the sharp angles of the rough winds are smoothed away; and, although it blows seemingly as good a will as ever, it is a modest, good-natured, full-mouthed blast, which strikes us broadside like, and not edge-wise, as formerly, causing the ears to tingle, and the cheeks to blush, whenever it gained access through our muffles.

We hail the spring with joy, for it comes like a harbinger of returning health to nature, so long clothed in the heavy garments of winter—like the tidings of freedom to the captive, and hope to the fugitive. We bid the hoary crown of winter farewell without regret, but not spitefully, for his reign has been one of gladness, and gayety has flourished with a liberality which shall preserve his memory until the bright flowers and green fields lead our thoughts to a clime where winter never comes and joys are new.—Alb. Eve. Jour.

ASSOCIATED EFFORT.
Of what use is an isolated type? It may be a perfect letter and a beautiful one, but who takes notice of it? It may be a figure nine, which has wandered away from the head of a half dozen ciphers. Without this little type the whole row means just nothing. How important then is a single type —especially in the place assigned for it by the compositor. Do you see nothing in this illustration, ye who exclude yourselves from society, and live isolated lives?
